Advanced Breast Cancer Group Annual Appeal 2026.

abcg.org.au thegroup@abcg.org.au

October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month. It's an important opportunity to raise awareness, start conversations and show support for everyone affected by breast cancer.

But breast cancer isn't one experience.

For people living with metastatic breast cancer, there is no end to treatment and no traditional survivor narrative. It is an incurable disease that can bring ongoing uncertainty into every part of life, from relationships and family to work, treatment and plans for the future.

This October, you can help the Advanced Breast Cancer Group continue supporting people living with metastatic breast cancer

Why your support matters

ABCG provides specialist psychosocial support for people living with metastatic breast cancer.

Through professionally facilitated support groups, meetings, workshops and resources, we provide a safe and understanding space where people can connect with others who understand, access specialist support and talk openly about the realities of living with the disease.

Every donation helps us continue providing this support to people living with metastatic breast cancer and their families.

Three simple ways to get involved

DONATE: Make a donation

Support ABCG directly by making a one-off donation through our website. Every donation helps us continue providing specialist psychosocial support to people living with metastatic breast cancer.

FUNDRAISE: Bring people together

Turn something simple into an opportunity to support ABCG. Host a morning tea at home or work, organise a get-together with friends, take on a personal challenge or come up with an idea of your own.

Invite people to support you by making a donation, then donate the funds you raise directly to ABCG through our campaign page.

CHAMPION: Get your workplace involved

Help bring ABCG's Annual Appeal into your workplace. Your organisation could make a donation, match donations made by employees, share the appeal with staff or encourage your team to fundraise together.

It's a simple way to help more people learn about metastatic breast cancer while supporting the people living with it.

Supporting ABCG is simple

There are no complicated sign-ups or lengthy forms. Whether you choose to donate, fundraise or get your workplace involved, all donations can be made directly through the ABCG campaign page.

Support ABCG this October and help us continue to be there for people living with metastatic breast cancer.
